AN EDITORIAL WORD

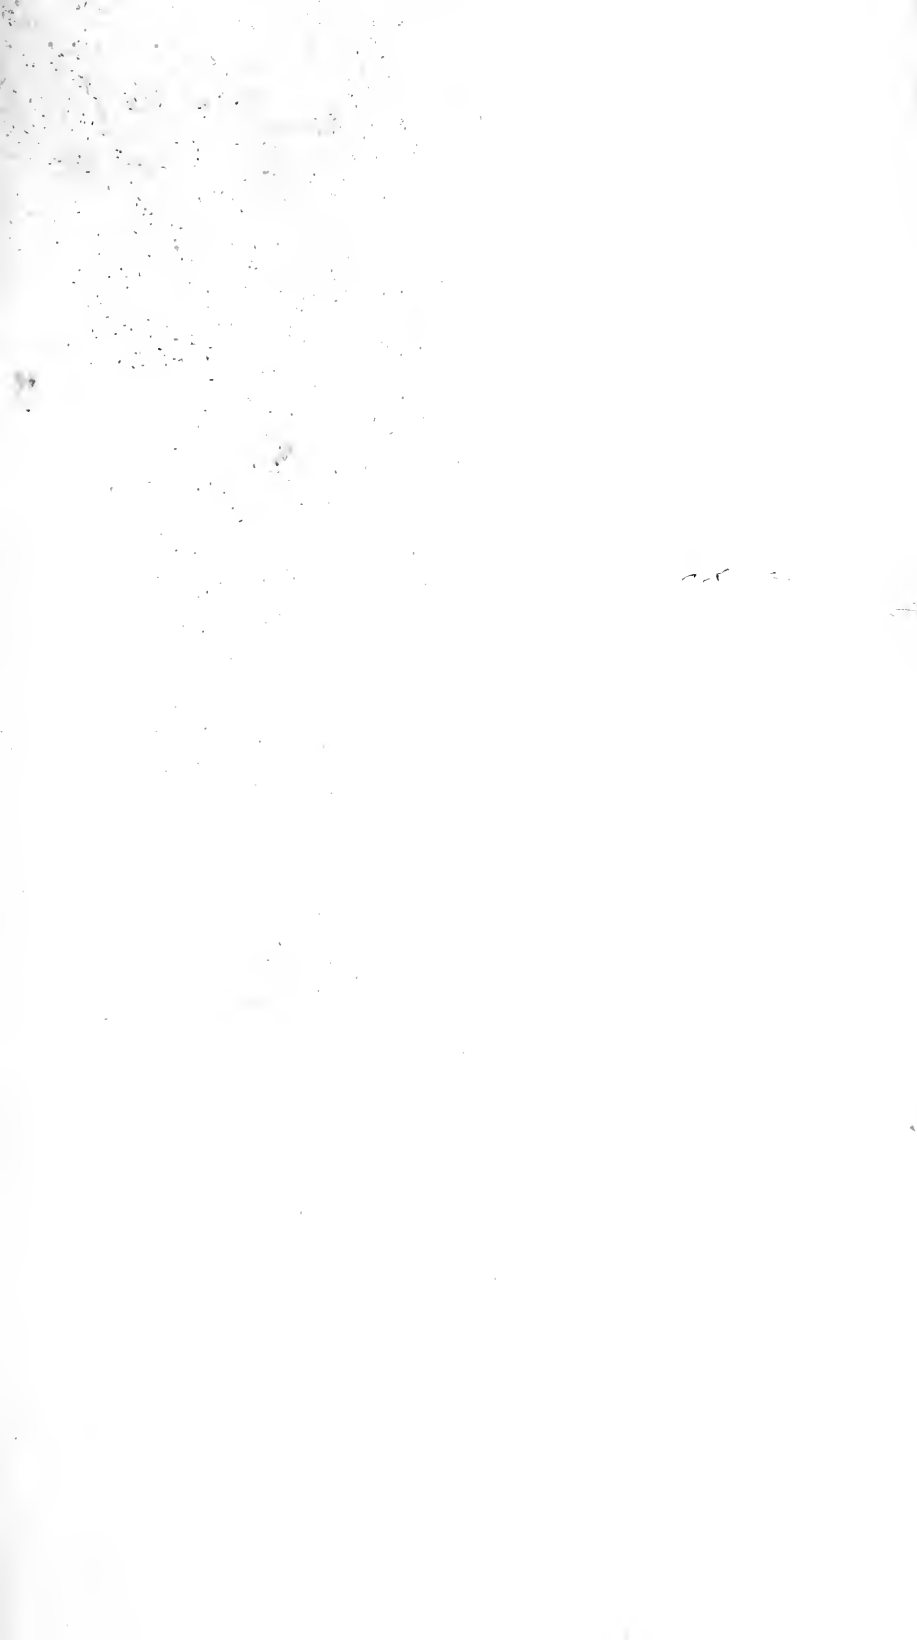

The Annual is to be sold at 25 cents per copy, and the money remitted to the Secretary at Abingdon. Send a check, if possible, which always insures a receipt to the sender. If needed, order more copies from the Secretary at Abingdon, Va.

The picture of Mrs. J. W. Belt could not be secured for the memorial group.

In the statistical tables cents are omitted, but included in the totals. The tables furnished by the Conference Teller could not be used, as the arrangement of items and charges differed from that of the statistical secretaries whose tables included some items not in the other tables.

The Conference map was prepared by Rev. E. A. Shugart during the past year, and does not include changes made at Conference, or statistics reported.

JAMES A. BURROW,
Secretary.

CONSTITUTION OF THE HOLSTON BROTHERHOOD.

ARTICLE I.

This organization shall be known by the name of "The Brotherhood of the Holston Conference, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South;" and is to be constituted of beneficiary, and non-beneficiary, members; and its object is to provide a fund for the benefit of the widows and heirs at law of deceased beneficiary members of this order.

ARTICLE II.

The officers of this organization shall be a president, a vice-president, a secretary and a treasurer, who shall be elected annually, and shall serve until their successors are elected: and also, there shall be an executive committee, to be composed of three members of the Brotherhood, to be appointed annually by the president.

ARTICLE III.

Section 1.—The president, when present, shall call all necessary meetings of the Brotherhood, and shall preside at all the meetings of the order; and all committees will be filled by his appointments.

Sec. 2.—The vice-president, in the absence of the president, shall discharge the duties, devolving on the president.

Sec. 3.—The secretary shall keep a complete record of all the meetings of the Brotherhood in a well bound book; and in a proper book he shall register the names of all beneficiary and non-beneficiary members, keeping the two classes separate; and he will also enter in said book the postoffice address of each non-beneficiary member; he shall collect the annual dues from the beneficiary members, as well as admission fees, and turn them over promptly to the treasurer; he shall furnish each beneficiary member with a certificate of membership in the order; and he shall discharge such other duties as may be required of him by the Brotherhood. His actual and necessary expenses for postage, paper, blank membership certificates and blank books, will be paid out of the dues fund.

Sec. 4.—It shall be the duty of the treasurer to receive from the secretary the annual dues and admission fees, hold, disburse, or invest the same as directed by the Brotherhood; on the death of a beneficiary member, to give prompt notice to every member bound to pay on that benefit assessment; to collect and promptly pay over the benefit fund, and furnish the Brotherhood with the membership certificate of such deceased member, and a proper receipt for every claim paid; to submit to the Brotherhood an annual, written statement showing all monies received by him, amounts disbursed, and how, and vouchers for the same; amount on hands, and the true financial condition of the Brotherhood. He may be required to give bond, in some solvent surety company, in the amount required by the Brotherhood, the cost of the same, and for his necessary expenses for postage, paper, etc., to be paid out of the dues fund.

ARTICLE IV.

All officers of the Brotherhood are to serve without pecuniary compensation.

ARTICLE V.

All the meetings of the Brotherhood are to be held at the places where the annual sessions of said Holston Conference are holden; and must be held during the sessions of said Holston Conference; and at least one session annually must be held by the Brotherhood.

ARTICLE VI.

Section 1.—Any person, not already a member of the Brotherhood, may obtain membership in the Brotherhood, in either the beneficiary, or non-beneficiary, class on the following terms: All effective members of said Holston Conference, and all who are on trial for admission into said Conference, by paying to the secretary an admission fee of fifty cents; provided they join before the close of the session of said Holston Conference in the year 1900; and any supernumerary or superannuate of said Holston Conference, upon a two-thirds affirmative vote of the members present, and by paying an admission fee of fifty cents, may obtain a beneficiary membership in the Brotherhood; provided the application be made during the sitting of said Holston Conference in the year 1900; after which time no new members will be received into the Brotherhood except those thereafter received into the said Holston Conference as effective members, by transfer or otherwise, or are received on trial for admission into said conference; and each shall have two years from the date of becoming a trial member of said conference, but no longer, in which to become a beneficiary member of the Brotherhood; provided that any one once a beneficiary member of this order, having lost his membership, may within one year from the date of such loss be reinstated by a two-thirds affirmative vote, on the payment of all back dues and benefit calls.

Sec. 2.—Any person, not a beneficiary member, may become a non-beneficiary member upon authorizing the secretary to enter the applicant's name on the list of the non-beneficiary members.

Sec. 3.—Each beneficiary member shall pay fifty cents annually, as dues; and the sum of two dollars and fifty cents on the death of each beneficiary member; the annual dues must be paid, not later than thirty days after the adjournment of the said annual conference for that year; and the benefit assessment must be paid within sixty days after notice from the treasurer to pay the same; and a violation of either of the last two provisions will work a suspension of such defaulting member, and may be cause for expulsion.

Sec. 4.—Loss of membership in the Holston Conference, from expulsion, location or by transfer, will work a loss of membership in the Brotherhood; provided, any member of the said Holston Conference, being transferred to another conference, may remain a member of the Brotherhood for one year from the date of such transfer by paying annual dues and any benefit assessment that may fall due during the year.

Sec. 5.—Each non-beneficiary member, upon notice from the treasurer of the death of a beneficiary member leaving a widow, or minor children, shall pay to the treasurer one dollar, and this is all, for any purpose, a non-beneficiary member shall be bound to pay; and a non-beneficiary member may at any time honorably withdraw from the Brotherhood, by giving the secretary notice of such purpose, and by paying any benefit assessment that may be due and unpaid

ARTICLE VII

Upon the death of a beneficiary member, the benefit fund shall be paid to the widow, if any, of the deceased; if no widow, then to the minor children, if any; if there be no minor child, then to the heirs at law of the deceased according to the laws of descent and distribution in the state where the deceased had his home at the time of his death; provided, that when there is a widow, if she be not the owner of a home, the benefit fund derived from the non-beneficiary members, after it shall have reached the sum of five hundred dollars, shall be paid over to the executive committee, the members of which shall, as soon as practicable, invest said fund in a home for such widow, the title to the same to be vested in her in fee: and provided, that when the fund is to go for the benefit of a minor, or minors, the same must be paid to the regularly appointed guardian of said minors.

ARTICLE VIII

In addition to the duties of the executive committee set forth in Article VII of this constitution, it shall be the duty of said executive committee to fill any vacancy in the office of secretary or treasurer that may occur between the annual meetings of the Brotherhood.

ARTICLE IX.

The annual dues and admission fees shall constitute an emergency fund, and shall be subject to the order of the Brotherhood.

ARTICLE X.

During the intervals of the annual sessions of the Holston Conference, the secretary may receive members in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Sections 1 and 2, of this constitution.

ARTICLE XI.

At any authorized meeting of the Brotherhood, the members present shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business, except that this constitution can not be amended, or annulled, only at a meeting where at least fifty members are present, and by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of those present.

ARTICLE XII.

This constitution, so soon as adopted, will be in force, and will supersede the original constitution of this Brotherhood.

BIBLE BOARD.

The place of the written Word of God in the world's evangelization is high and large and essential. In the piety, intelligence and efficient usefulness of the individual Christian it is equally large and necessary. Neither can it be dispensed with in the home, the school, the state; nor in any institution of the Church whose chart, constitution and by-laws this Word is.

This age, among other notable things, is particularly distinguished for the study of the Bible, for knowledge about the book as to its origin, history, contents, purpose and methods of exegesis and impartation to the people. Hence, there is a greater and more general desire and effort to increase its circulation than ever before. This is a good omen surely.

Moreover, the Word of God has won its own way among men by its inherent worth and by proving itself what it claims to be—the revealed will of God concerning men. In order to do this it must be placed in the hands of the people. Since this is so, it is transcendently important that the printed Word be placed within the reach of every man, and in the tongue wherein he was born.

If the denominations, singly or unitedly, are not able to do this—and it seems that they are not, except perhaps in very small part—it behooves them to assist, as far as possible, any institution that can do, and is doing so. Now we find that this is the avowed purpose of the American and the British Foreign Bible Societies whose marvellous success commands not only our faith and prayers but admiration. The former, which is our national institution, and has the first claims upon us, is publishing the Word of God and parts of it in seventy-seven languages, besides in the English and for the blind. It thus paves the way and makes it possible for the Churches of Christendom to teach and preach salvation to those that speak or read these languages and dialects; or in other words to evangelize the far greater part of the pagan world.

Since the American Bible Society was founded and has ever been carried on as a purely philanthropic institution whose sole purpose is to print and supply the Word of God at or below cost to all men in their own tongues, donating besides many thousands of copies every year, the Society manifestly has strong and standing claims upon the prayers, patronage and liberality of the Church of which we are a part. In view of these and other related facts we insist that not for a moment should we relax our efforts or reduce our assessments and contributions, but should rather increase them.

We, therefore, recommend that the assessments of last year be considered as a minimum, and wherever it is at all practicable for a church or a charge to go beyond the assessment that that church or charge be urged to do so.

We also request that our preachers present to their respective congregations the merits, needs and importance to us as a Church the Society's work, and call attention also to the fact that the prices of the printed Word of God as issued by this Society are within reach of the poorest, and to those unable to buy the Bible is donated by the Society. Further, we express our approval of the movement of Mrs. Russell Sage to create an endowment for the Society by donating $500,000 on condition that the friends of it raise an equal sum.

We further recommend the appointment by the Bishop of G. D. Moses, a member of this Conference, as General Correspondent in the South Atlantic Agency for the Bible Society. In this office he will not only act as a representative of the American Bible Society, but will also distribute and sell the Society's publications in our territory.

G. W. SUMMERS, Chairman.

TEMPERANCE.

We, members of the kingdom of Christ and citizens of our government, recognize our accountability to Almighty God and this generation in the initiative committed to us of grappling with the local, state and world policies which confront and afflict us. The blight and reproach of the liquor evil is as much ours to remove as the ignorance of pagan superstition. The revolution of public conviction, under the Four Mile Law in Tennessee and with the Anti-Saloon and State-wide movements and the triumphs won thereby for temperance, have aroused the gigantic Liquor Trusts, The National Retail Liquor Dealers Association and The National Brewers Association, to retard and defeat the further progress of temperance and regain lost territory at any cost and by any measures, and every Christian patriot and every lover of mankind must keep the watchword of eternal vigilance and heed the battle cry of renewed activity at this crisis in the wake of advancement and victory.

The past year has been one of unequalled activity and progress in temperance reform throughout the nation. Since our Conference adjourned, one year ago, from seven thousand to eight thousand saloons have been put out of business in this country and between six and seven millions of people have been liberated from the tyranny and bondage of the legalized liquor curse.

In the states partly covered by Holston territory there has been a continuous engagement all along the line resulting in state-wide prohibition for the State of Tennessee, the capture of several of the larger cities of West Virginia by local option, with the immediate prospect of the passage of a state-wide enactment by the next Legislature of Virginia, and the strengthening of our stakes by the abolishment of many of her remaining saloons and distilleries.

Recent statistics show more clearly and conclusively than ever that the beverage liquor traffic is the greatest contributing cause of moral perversity, commercial waste, political corruption, criminality, disease, insanity, poverty, ignorance and the sum total of all human misery, wretchedness and wickedness. The statistics in every liquor dominated city in this Republic show the saloon to be the Church's greatest competitor for or debaucher of the young manhood of the Nation, and that it bars more effectually than anything else the Church's approach with the Gospel of the Son of God.

We believe the policy of Local Option as practiced in Virginia and West Virginia is one of the best methods of educating the people as to the evil effects of liquor selling and intemperance and the beneficent effects of non-licence or prohibition. We do not, however, endorse it as a permanent policy in dealing with the legalized liquor traffic, but as a temporary measure only, contributing to the final and complete extermination of the saloon through state-wide and nation-wide laws.

We rejoice in the action of the brave, patriotic men in the General Assembly of Tennessee that has given to the old Volunteer State state-wide prohibition. We do not, however, believe the enactment of prohibitory law to be the end, but rather the beginning of our fight. We may not hope to eradicate all the evils engendered by more than a half century of license in one, two or even five years of prohibition, but if we are true to our trust our great-grand-children will consult an encyclopaedia for the definition of a saloon, and then marvel that the civilization of the twentieth century should have tolerated it for a single day.

It is, therefore, desirable that the patriotic citizens who stood together for law enactment should also stand together for law enforcement and see to it that men committed to the enforcement of temperance legislation are elevated to official position. This becomes all the more imperative in view of the defiant attitude of the liquor traffic and liquor press. "Prohibition does not prohibit," is their slogan which is to say, being interpreted, "If you do not allow us to sell liquor by law, we will sell it in defiance of the law."

We deplore and protest against the indiscriminate issuance of United States Government tax receipts, under the internal revenue law to all applicants willing to pay the regulation fees, thus encouraging law-breaking in "dry" territory by rendering the illicit liquor dealer immune from federal interference.

We also deplore and protest against the fact that under our existing inter-state commerce laws the liquor interests may flood "dry" territory with the so called jug trade, or mail-order-business, where it is impossible to do so under the intra-state commerce regulations. We especially deplore the fact that Bristol, Virginia, one of the gateways to the South, has fallen into the hands of the liquor trust with the declared purpose, on their part of converting it into a relay station and depot of supplies from which to flood the "dry" South. While making this declaration we are not unmindful of the brave fight made by the heroic band of temperance workers in the City of Bristol against the foreign liquor trust. Their courage challenges our respect and admiration and we freely extend to them our sympathy in their temporary defeat.

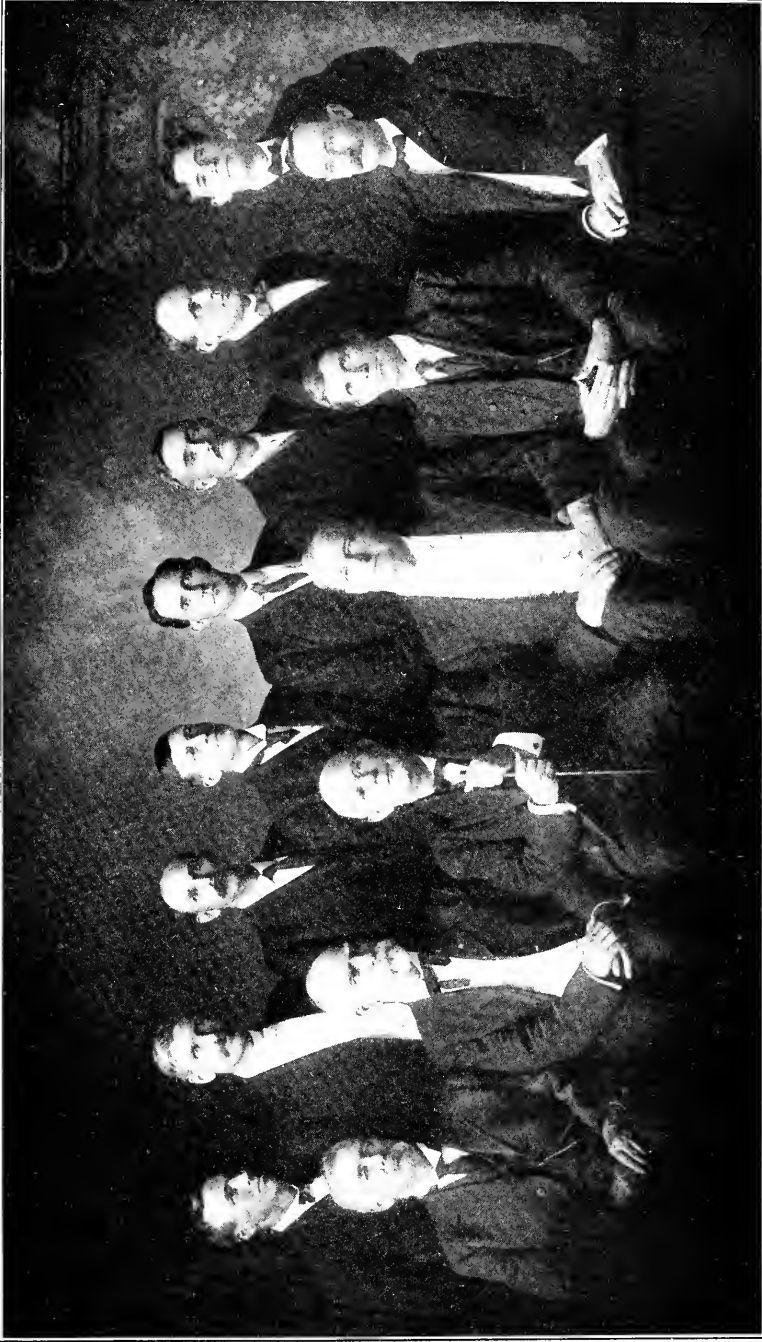

With gratitude we record that in some sections of our country, especially so in the South, some of the metropolitan journals are more disposed to give the cause of temperance a fair hearing, and the effects of prohibition an impartial accounting, than formerly; but we deplore the fact that the number of such great dailies is all too small. Our temperance cause will bear the light of the most searching investigation. We, therefore, court the powerful assistance of the press in bringing it impartially before the public, and especially, do we crave editorial fairness.

Resolved. First. That we pledge ourselves anew to the destruction of the legalized and illicit traffic in intoxicating beverages in community, State and Nation.

Second. That whenever a community, state or nation has the option of voting upon the question of license or no license the responsibility shifts to the voter and that he becomes individually responsible for the traffic and every attendant evil until he has protested against it with his ballot and influence.

Third. That we advocate the enactment of intra-state shipping laws adequate to the protection of our "dry" territory and the enactment of such inter-state shipping laws as will allow each individual state to attend to its own affairs with reference to the iniquitous liquor traffic.

Fourth. That preachers and laymen unite in a vigorous, continuous effort to secure a rigid enforcement of the law against the sale and disbursing of intoxicating liquors and more especially so in no license or prohibition territory, that the law be not blamed.

Fifth. That we endorse and rejoice in the action of the General Assembly of Tennessee in the enactment of a state-wide prohibitory law.

Sixth. That we endorse and sympathize with the state-wide movement in West Virginia.

Seventh. That we recommend a state-wide movement for the State of Virginia in which the voice of the people of the whole state may be heard either in legislative enactment, or in direct expression at the ballot box and that we call upon the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia to lead this movement.

Eighth. That our business and professional men should exert their influence with the papers circulating in our territory for the purpose of informing them as to the actual benefits attending no license or prohibition rule, and for the purpose of securing a fair expression of these facts both in their reportorial and editorial columns, and that we give our support to, and encourage the circulation of such papers as are fair to the great cause of temperance.

Ninth. We are much gratified at the conservative and practical methods of the Anti-Saloon League and commend its educative work and effective progress in local, general and state-wide conquests.

Tenth. We earnestly recommend to our preachers that they preach to their people once a quarter on the subject of the suppression of the liquor evil and law enforcement and that they give to the officers and leaders of the Anti-Saloon League a welcome hearing before their congregations.

Eleventh. We recommend the appointment of Rev. J. D. McAlister to the advanced position of General Secretary of the Anti-Saloon League in Virginia, and we recognize with gratification and commendation the valuable services and successes that have attended his efficient labors the past year.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Our Publishing House reports a business increasing alike in volume and profits. This notwithstanding the year was one of business depression in the country generally. The circulation of Sunday School literature continues to increase and to be the largest source of revenue. The Review more than pays for the cost of its publication. The Advocate and the Epworth Era show deficits, but only on account of outstanding unpaid subscriptions. Their record in this respect is like that of all similar periodicals the country over.

The business management of the Midland Methodist continues to broaden its base and prosper, and to merit and have the appreciation and approbation of the Conference.

The maintenance of the high standard of editorial work done on the periodicals published by our House, on The Christian Advocate, The Review, the Sunday School literature, The Epworth Era, and the Midland Methodist is a matter of gratification. The Review was never, perhaps, quite so happily adapted to the Church's need; the Sunday School literature shows enlargement and improvement in its various grades, and in the introduction of entirely new periodicals including the graded series; The Epworth Era continues to be an eminently efficient organ, and its high literary quality the happy reflection of the culture and versatility of its gifted editor; and the Christian Advocate and Midland Methodist maintain their high standard of excellence.

Our Publishing House carries a stock of books, in which is included the literary output so far of Southern Methodism (which should be cherished by us) and in its offer to order for us books not in stock, the house stands between the book-lover and the book-markets of the world.

The pastor has in the Publishing House, its books and periodicals, his greatest help. The world redeeming forces are the spirit-filled man and the Book.

The library affords one the fellowships, heroisms and wisdoms of the storied past; the periodical, the heroisms, wisdoms and fellowships of the present.

We urge upon our pastors to magnify their offices as book-agents and solicitors of subscriptions for our periodicals; to encourage the formulation of libraries in the homes; to arouse in the young people a taste for good books; to put the Advocate and Midland, one or both, and the Era, in all of our homes, and let every minister and official member take the Review.

We urge upon our pastors to avail themselves to the utmost of that part of the Sunday School literature published to enlist the home in the better support of the School.

We recommend the reappointment of Rev. T. C. Schuler as editor, and J. W. Perry, Eugene Blake, and Creed F. Bates as Publishing Committee for The Midland Methodist.

We cordially invite the Memphis Conference to unite with the Holston and Tennessee in the adoption of the Midland as the Conference organ.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

When we read from God's holy Word, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," it brings vividly before us the fact, that the Sabbath is not only a day of rest from daily toil, but a day set apart to worship Almighty God. Yet we fear that in many places, even in this Southland of ours, this commandment is violated to a distressing extent. At the present day we are facing a great crisis. More than once has it been declared, even by public speakers, that the Sabbath should be a day of recreation—that public places of amusement should be thrown open, so as to make the Sabbath a day of amusement instead of a day of thanksgiving to God. We find many that seem to feel and express by actions and words, that one hour listening to the preaching of God's holy Word is as much as should be required of them. They forget that God has said, "Remember the Sabbath day,"—not one hour of it, but all. The nations of the world that stand highest today and are making the greatest advancement along all lines, temporal and spiritual, keep the first day of the week. We are glad to know of the conventions that have been held to bring to bear their influences against the desecration of the Sabbath. Yet the greatest force and the mightiest influences that can be brought to bear, is the Church of our blessed Christ.

Let each one that professes the name of Christ do all he can to carry out this commandment.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

The difficult problem for the solution of which your Committee wrestled in frequent and protracted sessions left no margin of time for the preparation of an elaborate statement of its labors or defense of its decisions. The most experienced members of the Board agree that more conscientious and painstaking effort to reach right conclusions is not often put forth in any cause, and they most devoutly pray to be delivered in the future from the strenuous life which their task imposed. Assuming that the vast importance of Sunday School efficiency is fully recognized by you we refrain from either argument or exhortation on that score but pass at once to a consideration of matters of practical concern to us all.

The growth of interest in Sunday School work is observable on every hand. That there is a divine significance in this we do not doubt. If human agency be inquired of we may justly conclude that the unexcelled literature under the administration of Dr. Chappell is the most potent factor. It would be well nigh impossible to speak words of exaggeration concerning it. The improvements of the past are but prophecies of the future, giving ample assurance that our publications are to be kept fully abreast of all requirements.

Details are so accessible that we need only bespeak your careful investigation of the wise adaption of these helps to every want of every school. Special attention is invited to the changes contemplated in the Adult Student, the Home Department Quarterly, and Graded Courses for the Beginners', Primary and Junior classes.

Our Teacher Training Department has fully justified itself, there being nearly one hundred First Course Circles in operation in addition to the 968 Circles organized heretofore in the old or Advanced Course. We urge upon pastors, officers and teachers the imperative necessity of modernizing our methods of instruction by the adoption of the Cradle Roll, Adult Class, Home Department, Training Class and other incentives to a larger enrollment and a more earnest study of the Word of God.

The most vexing question before your Board was this: How may we secure a systematic organization of our Conference Sunday School forces so that the incubus of a painful and depressing isolation might be banished from all our schools and especially those furthest removed from the centers of intellectual life and religious influence; how bring them into the fellowship of sympathy and awaken an intelligent enthusiasm? In the absence of other means, the President of the Board prepared and sent to all pastors and superintendents statistical blanks to be filled and returned as a source of information. For the brotherly response to this effort we return hearty thanks and are encouraged in the hope that ere long this new Holston Plan will be adopted by the Conference Boards of Southern Methodism.

Taking the presiding elder's district as the unit we hope during the coming year to secure at least such preliminary organization as will make it easier to perfect the system under better conditions in the future. It was perfectly plain to us that intelligent oversight of this work would be essential to the highest success of this forward movement. But how to provide this essential thing baffled our most earnest endeavor. Our hope for a field secretary must be reluctantly abandoned for lack of funds. The voluntary assessment requested of superintendents met with generous response so far as returns have been received, but is insufficient as a basis of support. Recognizing the burdens already upon the shoulders of our self-sacrificing Sunday School people your Board declines the use of any stratagem for the accomplishment of its object. For the current year, therefore, progress—so far as dependent upon financial agency, will be measured by a wider observance of Childrens' Day and an increase of offerings made through this regular channel. We look forward, however, to a better condition of affairs. Our efforts during the coming year, through the work of our District Secretaries and otherwise, will be to turn over to our successors—the Board for the next quadrennium—a fund sufficient to justify the appointment of one of our live Sunday School pastors to the much needed office of Field Secretary.

We ask that you endorse our selection of the following brethren as District Secretaries: T. P. Ford, Bluefield; J. H. Barnett, Radford; Robert E. Williams, Tazewell; H. B. Staley, Wytheville; Dr. E. C. Hamilton, Abingdon; W. B. Ford, Big Stone Gap; D. A. Pless, Morristown; F. A. Carter, Knoxville; L. M. Thomas, Chattanooga; and Rev. J. H. Reynolds, Harriman district; and we further recommend and request that you authorize presiding elders to fill any vacancies that may occur during the year in their respective districts.

Feeling that the circulation of the Year Book should not be limited to preachers and superintendents the Board purposes an edition of 2,500 copies; and to relieve the draft upon our expense account must request the cooperation of pastors in securing the sale of copies at ten cents each, which will barely cover the cost of printing and mailing.

For want of time in drafting of this report we are compelled to refer to our President details as to the better observance of Children's Day in its relation to the establishment of the chair of religious pedagogy, etc., with request that he bring these matters before our people in appropriate ways during the year. It is also agreed that all applications for schools for aid in the form of literature shall be made by superintendents and endorsed by pastors before the same can be granted.

The Board asks your endorsement of the following petitions:

I.

Realizing the inadequacy of our General Conference Sunday School Board as at present constituted, for the proper supervision of the field and the efficient correlation of its forces we respectfully petition the General Conference of 1910 to amend paragraph 246, page 105 of our Book of Discipline so that it shall include the appointment by the General Conference of a Sunday School Secretary with powers analogous to those of the Secretary of Education.

II.

In order to more clearly set forth the creed of Methodism as touching the relation of baptized children to the Church we memorialize the said General Conference to amend paragraph 209, page 92 of our Book of Discipline by prefixing the words following so that it shall read thus: "Believing that all children inherit the Kingdom of God by virtue of the unconditional benefits of the atonement made by our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and being in that relation are entitled to the sign and seal of the covenant of promise, therefore, let the minister diligently instruct and exhort all parents," etc.

Bespeaking the cordial co-operation of our brethren in our arduous work we respectfully submit this report for their adoption.

COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT.

Your Committee of Management appointed to represent you in giving special attention to raising and expending $77,000.00 to secure an urgently needed line of improvements for Emory and Henry College, respectfully submit the following report:

Of the $76,364.00 reported by us, and by our Financial Agent, Rev. J. O. Straley, during your session in Bluefield, West Virginia, of October, 1907, as secured in cash, notes and open subscriptions we now report $54,678.85 as collected in cash and its equivalent. As to how much can be realized out of the remaining $21,685.15 we have no means of knowing, but our Assistant Treasurer, Prof. J. R. Hunter, to whose faithfulness and efficiency our success in collecting is largely due, estimates that $10,000.00 will be paid in by March 1st, 1910.

The improvements secured to date have cost $54,013.88 and consist of a Fitting School Building, a Student's Home, reconstruction of the Fulton House, new equipment for Science Hall, added equipment for Gymnasium, improvement of a residence, one new residence for faculty, a system of water works, the Stuart Memorial Home, under roof, and a few other minor items.

The scheme of improvements originally contemplated has now progressed to the point where your Committee must take up with the trustees the enterprise of a new Main Building. When the Stuart Memorial Home is completed it will furnish ample rooming accommodations for all the students heretofore provided for in the Main Building; and it has been decided, after thorough examination, that this building can not be repaired, and should be substituted by a new one adapted and devoted entirely to purposes of administration, instruction and worship.

This building so immediately essential to the prosperity of the College calls for at least $60,000.00. We must secure at least $20,000.00 more in cash before we can claim the $25,000.00 promised, but conditioned upon our raising $75,000.00, and we think it will be necessary to have an agent or agents engaged very actively in securing a supplementary sum of several thousand dollars before the new Conference year closes; but we shall give first the closest possible attention to the amounts promised and as yet unpaid.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Widespread interest in education is a very noteworthy characteristic of the present. The state is each year increasing its facilities, and legislatures responding to a very general sentiment are voting increased appropriations for education. More and more men of great wealth are giving largely to promote and foster the work of education. Activity on the part of the state, and increasing liberality of individuals toward secular, or semi-secular institutions, does not, however, relieve the Church of obligation, but shows the need of, and in a sense compels a corresponding activity and liberality in the behalf of Church institutions. It would be a hazardous experiment to entrust the whole work of education to secular hands, yet without great wisdom, and a far more generous support of our Church schools, we can not continue to exert the measure of influence in this direction, which has belonged to the Church in the past.

It gives your Board pleasure to report a year of prosperity and encouraging progress for our educational institutions which we would express ourselves as deeply gratified with the steady growth of Emory and Henry College in equipment, patronage, literary standards, and characterizes the fact that a great work remains to be accomplished for this institution under the leadership of the Holston Conference. About $55,000 has been secured and expended in recent improvements, but the main building is yet to be erected, and a central heating and lighting plant must be installed. In addition a minimum endowment of $100,000 must be procured, before we can feel that the future is fairly secure. Due watchfulness, and diligence on the part of the trustees, the Conference, and all concerned, will enable us to obtain this as the tide of national prosperity returns during the next few months, or years, at most.

Your Board requests the appointment of Rev. J. O. Straley as Financial Agent of Emory and Henry College, in connection with his regular appointment.

Martha Washington College has had a most prosperous year, the boarding patronage being fully equal to the accommodations of the College. Subscriptions to the amount of $5,000 are reported to be applied on the debt of the institution. Bishop Hoss is requested to appoint Rev. J. B. Ward Financial Agent for Martha Washington College.

Centenary College is having a most encouraging career, the accommodations being taxed by the enrollment. With new buildings, new equipment, and the debt reduced to a nominal sum, the future of this institution is most promising.

Sullins College is having great success, and is to be congratulated on securing the services of Dr. W. S. Neighbors, as Associate President.

From reports submitted to the Board we give the following figures bearing on the work of our Conference schools for the past year:

	Teachers	Pupils	Debt	Insurance	Value
Emory and Henry.....	12	233	$7,370	$57,000	$150,000
Martha Washington.....	18	180	18,500	27,500	85,000
Sullins.....	22	284	24,000	27,000	125,000
Centenary.....	20	195	4,000	34,000	90,000
Hiwassee.....	6	106	1,000	4,500	25,000

Jonesville Academy.....	6	175	6,000	15,000
Pryor Institute.....	7	181	1,700	10,000	32,000
Pikeville Training School..	6	140	1,000	14,000

Our secondary schools all report a prosperous year, with prospects of increasing success. In the case of Pryor Institute, and of Pikeville Training School, your Board is convinced that it will be best for all trustees to be hereafter elected by the District Conferences in whose bounds they are respectively located, and we desire that the Conference so order. We believe that wherever possible the trustees of district schools should be elected by the District Conference and ask the endorsement of this policy by the Conference, to be carried out whenever and wherever found practicable.

Good progress has been made in the work of raising the debt on Pryor Institute, and the Presiding Elder of the Chattanooga District is requested to appoint one of the pastors in his district to complete this work.

This Board requests the appointment of Rev. Marvin G. Maiden to the Principalship of Tom's Creek High School.

A Committee on Correlation has been appointed by the Board, and definite steps are being taken to secure such relations between our Conference educational institutions, and such a correlation of their courses of study, as will promote sympathetic, intelligent, and efficient co-operation.

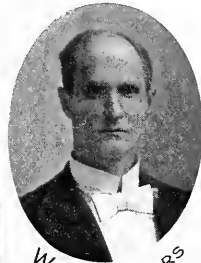

The Executive Committee of the Board has been empowered to arrange a program, and call the Board together in the interview between this and the next Annual Conference, and to attend to such business as has hitherto come before it.

We have received the neat catalogue sent out by the Correspondence School of Vanderbilt University, and note that the larger part of our under-graduates are pursuing the Conference Course under the direction of the school. We are gratified at this, and commend to our young preachers the opportunity for more extended studies afforded by the well arranged courses set forth in the catalogue.

Your Conference Board has carefully considered the communications from the General Board which has been referred to it, and would call attention to these interesting and encouraging statements: The present value of educational institutions owned by our church, $11,978,133, a gain over last year of $61,466. During the year thirty-five new buildings have been erected at a cost of $558,525. There has been a gain of $343,319 in endowment, which now totals $4,394,782. The total income of our institutions is shown to have been this year $2,027,138, an increase of $34,183. The whole floating and bonded debt on our institutions has been reduced by $141,074.

We especially call attention to the plan of our General Secretary of Education, Dr. J. D. Hammond, for providing an Educational Extension Foundation, as set forth in the Church press, and by folders issued from our Publishing House. This plan contemplates the formation of A Hundred Thousand Club, each member of which shall contribute not less than five dollars during the next five years. This plan has received the endorsement of the General Board, and of our Bishops and leading educators individually. Much more than the raising of $500,000 is contemplated in this movement. It will form a constituency upon which the General Board can rely, and to whom informing and inspiring literature may be sent, and through which our entire membership may be reached. We heartily endorse and commend this plan, and bespeak the co-operation of our preachers in making it effective.

The Executive Committee arranged a program and called a meeting of the Board at Bristol, August 24-26. Very careful reports were submitted at this time, showing the exact condition of each of our colleges and secondary schools, and the relation of each to the Church. The facts brought out at this meeting were illuminating, and make possible and intelligent treatment of the whole situation, and the shaping of a definite policy by this Board. A number of carefully prepared papers were read at this meeting, and it is worthy of note that most of these discussions bore upon the home and the local Church as educational institutions. Great emphasis was laid upon the home as the unit of society, and the Christian home as the safeguard and foundation of our civilization. From inquiries sent out to a number of pastors it was developed that in comparatively few of our homes is family worship observed. One pastor reports not a single family in his charge.

Attention is here called to the range of these discussions, because it sets forth the viewpoint of the Church in the work of education. It is the development of the whole nature, the enrichment of the whole life, which the Church seeks to accomplish, and in this connection we would most earnestly call the attention of our pastors to the home and the local Church in their educative value. In the home the earliest and most lasting impressions are made. It is worth all possible pains to secure the enthronement of Christ in a home. The truest culture after all, comes from the softening influences of Divine grace. The local Church too, may be made an educational center. In every charge there are hidden talents, souls "hidden among the stuff." If an earnest effort be made to find some suitable work for each member of the church, some task for every hand to perform, we would soon have a far more intelligent and spiritual membership, and a trained constituency, upon many of whom the Divine hand would no doubt be laid to fill up the depleted ranks of our ministry. There is no good reason for any Methodist Church standing empty and songless through any Sabbath day, or for allowing the fires to die on the altar of the Mid-Week Meeting. We have great numbers of laymen who would soon develop astonishing gifts, and many of these no doubt be called to higher forms of service. Spiritual life must find expression or die. Local preachers are dying out because we are not using them. Let us seek to instill the spirit of service, and soon large numbers will be of their own accord seeking the best equipment for service. The quickened spirit brings new vision to the mind, a ministry watchful and loyal to our schools can give direction to many young lives at a critical period.

This Board makes an assessment of $6,000 on the Conference for the incoming year to be applied as follows: To Emory and Henry College, $4,850.00; to Hiwassee College, $900.00; for expenses of the Board, $250.00. This assessment along with that for Education Extension levied by the General Board is apportioned to the districts as follows:

SPIRITUAL STATE OF THE CHURCH.

We understand that this report is to be a setting forth of the religious condition of the Church, of both the laity and the clergy. The reports give evidence of progress in vital, effective, spiritual grace, and indicate a healthy spiritual state. We are of opinion that no class of people should be more pious or more zealous in the attainment of the purest, richest, strongest, spiritual life than our beloved Holston laity and ministry. Each member of our Church should have a regenerated heart, the companionship of the Witnessing Spirit of Almighty God, and a groaning after that perfection of love that giveth freedom from fear that hath torment. It is the privilege of each one to have a deep, rich, spiritual life that will give comfort, and that will be a stay for every struggle and conflict.

We record with gladness the fact that in almost all the charges there have been gracious revivals resulting in approximately fourteen thousand conversions and nine thousand accessions to the Church. Much progress has been made in Church building and in a more systematic organization of the various departments of the Church.

We recommend that our ministry be characterized by a spirituality that is noticeably God-like, and religious in a way that will not allow one to be careless, indifferent or inefficient in doing the secular work and drudgery of the service.

That we make renewed and special effort to establish family worship in every home in our care.

That while the spiritual state of our Church is advancing in a way that is gratifying to the many faithful workers, let us endeavor, by the grace of God, to make the incoming year the best and the richest in spiritual grace and power of any in the history of the Conference.

W. S. HENDRICKS, Chairman.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

We are glad to be able to report that the interest in the cause of Church Extension is on the increase throughout the entire connection. One of the surest evidences of this increased interest is the substantial increase in receipts, the increase for last year being $27,624.56 over the preceding year, while $30,633.27 was contributed to the Loan Fund and $8,937 was collected on specials. Last year Holston Conference contributed $5,090.98 on an assessment of $5,885, being 86% of the assessment, and putting us twenty-first in the list of Conferences in the percentage paid. We should not be content to remain so far from the head of the list. We are glad to report this year even the small increase of $108.27 over last year, and trust that another year will see the assessment paid in full.

We are heartily in favor of all the forward movements of the General Board, and we are especially interested in the efforts of said Board to increase the Loan Fund Capital. We are very much gratified at the successful launching of the Sullins-Price-Richardson Loan Fund in our own Conference, the amount subscribed to date being $722. We hope to see this grow to at least $10,000 in the near future. Our Board has elected Rev. T. C. Schuler, President of the Board, as the Agent for this Fund, with authority to appoint others to assist him in the prosecution of the work. We ask the Conference to confirm this action. The Fund will be administered by the General Board, subject to the order of the Conference Board, all the money being used within the bounds of the Holston Conference. We earnestly request that the presiding elders and pastors give this matter their hearty support and co-operation. Literature fully explaining the Fund will be prepared for free distribution.

Our Board had before it twenty-nine applications for aid. These were from all parts of the Conference and represent every District but one. We are compelled to defer action in some cases until next year, that we may render sufficient aid in some very needy cases. We have made appropriations as follows:

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The past year has been one of the best in the history of the League movement. The General Secretary reports an increase of 462 chapters and a decided advance in the work of the various departments. After all the vicissitudes through which the League has passed it is growing more evident that it is the best training school in which to develop a working Church membership and we urge all pastors to so regard and organize chapters on all charges.

We are encouraged by the fact that the Annual League Conference at Morristown was attended by more than four hundred delegates. We attribute this increased interest somewhat to the more extensive advertising, and the central location of Morristown, but the main reason we believe to be, the fact that a definite work, the mission to the Italians, has been enterprised and is being successfully carried out.

This Board again recommends that the Leagues co-operate in any movement that promises to make real the many plans so long talked of for Chautauqua grounds, and in the event these plans fail, we suggest that a summer school or assembly be arranged by the officers of the annual League Conference at some central point, securing for the same the use of suitable buildings already erected.

During the last year $1,190 were paid into the treasury, $650 of which were devoted to missions, the balance being used to defray the Conference and current expenses. There is no record of money raised for local purposes except in the Knoxville District. The amount there was $1,800.

Fifty-five Mission Study Classes pursued some one of the various courses prepared for the young people.

In accordance with the recommendation of the General Board, League Day has been changed from the second Sunday in February to the first Sunday in May. The duty of the pastors therefore is to see that this day is observed and a collection taken and forwarded to the League Treasurer, Harry Swan, Jr., Bristol.

The Conference at Morristown respectfully requested the presiding elders to set the dates of the District Conferences so as not to conflict with the League Conference which is a fixed date, the second Tuesday in June.

We recommend that pastors pay special attention to the organization of Junior Leagues according to the Disciplinary requirement for herein as nowhere else can pastoral instruction be given to the children.

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The success of our work in the foreign field, according to the report of our General Board of Missions, has been remarkable. There has been an increase in the membership of 2,430, more than 12%, and the demands of the work embarrass the resources of the Board. The irrigation enterprises in the arid regions of the West, has opened a large territory of the best farming lands, and people are flocking in by the thousands. In New Mexico and Arizona, especially, these people seem to be largely from the Southland. The Board of Missions has been utterly unable to supply the demand for pastors, and in many places the people are without a shepherd or a shelter. Wherever a pastor and house of worship can be secured the work prospers.

Reports from the pastors in the employ of your Conference Board, have been most encouraging. There have been many great revivals, conducted by the pastors, and the Conference Evangelists who have been very diligent and report more than 2,000 professions of faith in the meetings conducted by them. The fact that many other evangelists not of our Church have been employed in our territory would indicate that the employment of two men does not nearly meet the demand for such service. We have discontinued the evangelists for the ensuing year, but hope the spirit of evangelism will continue.

The mid-year meeting will be held February 15th, to 17th. It will be impossible for us at that time to grant any increase in the total of our appropriations.

J. W. Perry is recommended for appointment as Conference Missionary Secretary.

I. T. Cameron was secured for the work among Italians in West Virginia soon after the adjournment of the Conference last year. He studied the language in the Training School to prepare for preaching and on the first of May came to the field. He has been studying conditions and making plans while visiting many places, gathering crowds and preaching to the people, who have given him everywhere a cordial welcome. We must provide a hall in Pocohantas, a place to which all frequently come where these people can meet under favorable and moral surroundings, and where our pastors can gather congregations for religious services, for night school work, and for concerts and other features to attract the people and show them our interest in them. A tent will probably be needed for evangelistic work in the Summer. We are making an effort to interest the Woman's Home Mission Society in building a parsonage for our pastor. We have reason to feel encouraged for the outlook for this enterprise.

The tardiness of pastors in sending money for Home Missions to our Treasurer has made it necessary for us to borrow money for a time this year and been the occasion of delay in meeting some of our obligations. We should like to urge that whenever it is possible this fund be paid over by the mid-year meeting in February.

The General Board of Missions has apportioned $12,100.00 to our Conference to be raised for Foreign Missions, $10,000.00 will not meet the demands on us by a large amount, and yet, in view of financial conditions and the determined opposition in the Conference to any increase, we do not ask for an increase, and respectfully call the attention of all our people to the fact that the inadequate appropriations made this year are due to lack of sufficient funds. We urge presiding elders and people to consider this in making demands upon us.

MEMOIRS

JAMES E. SWECKER

James Emmet Swecker was born August 7, 1861, in Wythe county, Virginia, where he lived until he came to young manhood. He was the son of Benjamin and Sarah Swecker. The atmosphere of the home was avowedly Christian and within its sacred precincts, when a youth of fourteen, he professed faith in Christ and soon became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, being received by Rev. Wm. H. Price his pastor. He attended school at Sparta, N. C., after going through the public school of his native county, and later spent some time at Emory and Henry, our Conference College. He was at this time a local preacher and was seeking to better equip himself for the work of the itinerancy.

In October, 1890, he was admitted on trial into the Conference, and from that day until the day of his departure for the life eternal he did his work in all good conscience and with a degree of acceptability and fidelity which any young minister might covet. He was about his Master's business, and it may truthfully be said of him that he redeemed the time, was never triflingly employed, and carried every day a serious conviction of the importance of the great work to which his Lord had called him. Our members who were in school with him tell me that when a young man he was in this respect like one of maturer years and wider experience. He knew God. He daily communed with Him and his ministry was serious and effective because he spoke out of the depths of a regenerate heart and life. His people believed in him; they felt that he was God's servant. His words were constantly being reinforced by the life of consecration and self abnegation which he was known to illustrate every day.

Near the close of the first year on September 27, 1892, he was married to Miss Lillie Dove Dickenson, of Floyd county, Virginia, by Rev. W. W. Pyott. This union was blessed with four children, two of whom preceded the father to the better world. On November 5, 1904, Bro. Swecker came to the great sorrow of giving up the wife who had done so much to make the parsonage the best place an earth—a sweet Christian home. As best he could with the care of three children, he went forward with his work.

On May 16, 1906, he was married a second time to Miss Daisy Kelly Hall, Rev. S. S. Catron officiating. The wife lives to honor the memory of a most devoted and consecrated husband, whose spirit went from its tenement of clay on Wednesday, March 3, 1909. He had then lived in this world 47 years, six months and 26 days.

No language or figure can express the full meaning of a life such as the one lived by Bro. J. E. Swecker. We shall not attempt it. Some things, however, were plainly seen of all who knew him. His heart was fixed; he was wholly absorbed in his work; he was acutely conscious that God had charged him with a measure of responsibility for which he should give account; his message was one of no uncertain sound, and he had souls for his hire. It was his desire year by year to be a more efficient worker for his Master. He did his best and then most beautifully illustrated the spirit Christ had in mind, when he said "So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, we are unprofitable servants; we have done that which was our duty to do."

He was a painstaking pastor visiting regularly from house to house neglecting neither the poor nor the well-to-do and in the houses of all it was his rule to pray and point the people to the Lamb of God. He thought little of his own comfort and when reminded of failing health by his best friends expressed the wish that he might only be permitted to die an armored soldier of the cross. It was his habit never to miss an appointment.

And so he lived and died. He preached his last sermon one month before the summons came, using for a text the Scripture, "The Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life."—Acts 5, 19-20. He has entered upon the inheritance about which he spake. He was cheerful and trustful until the end. He knew the promises made to the faithful, and he expected to inherit them; he talked tenderly of the heaven of his hope while drawing near its shore.

His body awaits the resurrection in Davis Cemetery in Wythe county, Virginia, near the home of his childhood. Rev. W. H. Troy using the burial service our brother had so often spoken at the graves of others, put the body to rest in the full hope of a blessed immortality. May God's good grace comfort and keep the sorrowing ones, and at last make the circle one unbroken about the throne eternal.

JAMES M. JIMISON

At noon on the 16th of February, at Erlanger Hospital in Chattanooga, James Manley Jimison died in peace. He was closing out the thirty-second year of his age, having been born on the 10th day of April, 1877. His birthplace was near Asheville, N. C., where both parents and his brothers and sisters now reside. His brother, T. P. Jimison, was at his bedside during his last hours.

He was a young man of vigorous mind, incessant energy, unusual devotion to his conceptions of right, and possessed of pleasing social qualities. He was always busy at something good, and it was the everlasting force that he put into the work assigned him that brought him to his grave in such an early year. But he was as gentle as he was strenuous. No man among us was easier of approach or more apparent in his sincerity. While older ones hesitated not to confide in him, the children literally gave him their hearts. There was something in the motions of his body, the flash of his eye, his energetic way of putting things that charmed a child. A little fellow, none too fond of sitting through service-hour, heard the first sermon he ever preached. The text was "The slothful man saith, there is a lion in the way." The child expressed himself as wanting to hear him preach again, and upon being asked why, replied, "He tells about lions."

Jimison's life was one continuous campaign marked by many struggles. The circumstances of his home were such as to render impracticable the granting to him of any financial aid for an education beyond the public schools. His conversion in childhood seems to have been accompanied by a consciousness of his call to the ministry. He felt that this was also a call to preparation through mastery of a course of study in the class rooms of a Christian College. Here was perhaps the initial struggle of his career. I saw him for the first time in the summer of 1898, as I now remember, on the farm of Emory and Henry College, working to meet the expense of a school year which was to begin the following September. My admiration for him began at that moment and has continued, without interruption, up to this hour. Along with it have grown a friendship and a personal love that compelled for me an overwhelming sense of loss in his—humanly speaking—untimely departure.

His college days were days of improvement. He applied himself to his studies, took a keen interest in the debates of his literary society, cultivated his professors, and sought the counsel and the confidence of the President, Dr

Waterhouse, whom of all men next to his own family, he held in highest esteem. But for failing health he would have remained in school until graduation. As it was, he pursued his course of study until well into his junior year. His gratitude to the college never for a moment abated, and the estimate he put upon the favors he received from Emory and Henry could not easily be described. I believe he would cheerfully have given the last penny of personal property he possessed for her assistance, if seriously called upon to do so. And many a time did he mention his desire to sleep at the last under the sod of the old cemetery whose pines stand as lonely sentinels guarding the valley and adjacent hill, whereon are laid the foundations of this institution of learning. And there he sleeps.

He served four charges in Holston Conference. In the summer of 1901 he completed the unexpired year of W. P. Buhrman at Lenoir City, who was transferred to the West. His second charge was Petros. In 1905 he was appointed to Rockwood, and the following year to South Pittsburg, of which church he was pastor at the time of his death. His pastorate at Petros was noteworthy. He was called to this mining field when there was neither a member to preach to, nor a house in which to preach. And yet in the space of two and one-half years he built up a Sunday School with an enrollment of 168, a membership numbering 52, erected and paid for a most creditable church building and a parsonage-cottage for his own convenience and comfort. In addition to this he looked after the spiritual welfare of some 800 prisoners in the Brushy Mountain stockades, having been appointed Chaplain there by James B. Frazier, then Governor of Tennessee. Many loyal and generous friends interested themselves in our project there, but the beginning was a matter of experiment and uncertainty. It appeared as if he had laid siege to Port Arthur—but if such it was, he did not let up until it fell into his hands.

I asked him a few months ago what he would have done, had he failed to secure a foothold there at that time. He answered in the most matter of fact sort of way that he would have worked in the mines through the week and preached to the people on Sunday. Those who knew Jimison at all well doubt not that he would have done that thing.

In his methods of thinking he was concise and analytical. His mind worked quickly but comprehensively. If he prepared his sermons with speed, he showed in their delivery that he had gone over the ground thoroughly and drawn his conclusions with care. His opinions on moral questions amounted to convictions and he defended the position he took with vigor and pertinacity. In his pulpit utterances he gave no quarter to sin. He rebuked it with a fervor that rarely failed to stir his hearers and arouse the sinner from the drowsy spell into which he had been lulled. At the same time, he was tender with the frailties of men and made much of the love of God in his appeals to them.

The explanation of his multitude of accomplished plans lay in the complete consecration of the man to God. The one question with him was, "Ought this to be done?" And if he answered affirmatively, he gave himself wholly to his task. Besides bringing to bear upon it the strength of an unalterable purpose, he called into requisition a virile faith in the promises of the Word, constant prayer, and ever present disposition to give the glory of his achievement to God. The relation between the surrendered heart and the effective life is direct and immutable.

"Some men live near to God, as my right arm
Is near to me; and then they walk about,
Mailed in full proof of faith, and bear a charm
That mocks at fear, and bars the door on doubt
And dares the impossible."

I shall be pardoned for this further word—a mention of the tender interest he took in those of his boyhood's home. Father, mother, brother, sister were words often upon his lips and precious to his soul. A little sister, bereft of eyesight, he was sending to a school for the blind and defraying the expenses. His brother, admitted on trial last year, was helped by him in obtaining an education; and what is infinitely beyond that was led by him into the Christian life. A revival at school was about to close, leaving Tom unconverted. He left his work at Rockwood, and hastened two hundred miles to Emory and Henry to urge him to give his heart to Christ. And it was one of the fondest memories of his last years, that he was permitted to stand in the pulpit of the College chapel, and assist in receiving that brother into the Church.

His final labors were in Chattanooga. He had come to assist in revival services at Ridgedale. It was in the heat of this battle that he was stricken down. But like Nelson at Trafalger, before a dissolving foe, he fell in the moment of victory. The meeting was stirring the community and gave promise of unusual results. On Sunday morning of the second week as he stood in the pulpit taking his text, his right arm fell helpless at his side. He paused, but only for a moment. He knew not how to surrender in a battle, and so with the courage of the soldier that he was he continued through the service, held another in the afternoon and a third at night, at all of which there were conversions, and then retired to his room never to enter the pulpit again. Everything was done for him that the genius of physicians and the love of friends could devise. But to no avail. When his poor frail body had resisted the power of its malady to the limit of its strength, he closed his eyes upon the scenes familiar here.

How very brief, and yet how very full, was this life! So brief indeed that we pause, and with pressed lips and bated breath, wonder why; and yet so rich and so full that we will not dare to doubt that it was a life at once finished and complete. Of him it is true, as was said of another, that he always and everywhere gave his strength to the weak, his substance to the poor, his sympathy to the suffering, his heart to God.

JOHN D. HICKSON

John D. Hickson was born in Grainger county, Tennessee, July 14, 1835, and departed this life from his home near Afton, Greene County, Tennessee, August 9, 1909. In early childhood he was deprived of the love and care of his father and was reared by his widowed mother who was ambitious to give him the advantage of a liberal education. He early gave evidences of a remarkably bright intellect coupled with unusually studious habits. He literally devoured all books which fell into his hands. He was a student to the end. He attended college at New Market and Mossy Creek, Tennessee. The last named place is now known as Jefferson City. Whether or not he graduated at either of these colleges I am not informed. But I do know he had attained the chief end of all scholastic training. He learned to think—think patiently, painstakingly, profoundly. Few men were so capable of wrestling with difficult problems, especially theological problems as was brother Hickson.

When only sixteen years old at camp-meeting held in Grainger county, Tennessee, he was happily converted to God, joined the Methodist Church and was soon after licensed to exhort. Almost or quite as soon as he was converted he felt a direct call to the ministry. Recognizing a call to preach as a call to get ready to preach, he turned all his studies that way. A number of the years of his life were spent as a teacher. Wherever he taught he impressed on the minds and hearts of his pupils the lofty aims and claims of religion; and on Sunday, when it did not conflict with the other appointments, preached the Gospel from pure love of the Master and his cause, without any monetary consideration.

In 1869 he was happily united in marriage to Miss Maria Elizabeth Newman, of Jefferson county, Tennessee. The fruits of this union were two sons and one daughter. The children all survive brother Hickson and reflect honor on his name.

He was admitted on trial into Holston Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in October, 1875, and was sent as pastor of Greeneville Circuit, which he served three years. In October, 1878, he became pastor of St. Clair Circuit, which he served one year. In 1879 he went to the Lenoir Circuit, which he served two years. In 1881, he was appointed to Maryville Circuit, which he served three years. From 1884 to 1888 he served the Union and Bluff City Circuits, these being the same charge, the name being changed during his pastorate. He served this charge the entire pastoral term of four years. He was then sent to Blountville Circuit, which he served with great acceptability for two years. In 1891 he was sent to the Rheatown Circuit, which he filled for a term of three years. From Rheatown Circuit he was sent to Jonesboro Station which he filled for two years. He then spent one year on Newport charge. From there he was returned to the Rheatown Circuit where he spent the last two years of his active ministry.

In 1893 he took the superannuate relation and was placed on the honor roll of the Conference where he remained until called from labor to his reward.

After he was forced by age and infirmity to desist from regular work, he was always ready to preach when his strength would at all allow. And when he was no longer able to leave his home troubled souls visited his house for advice and comfort. Many couples among his young friends came to his home where he celebrated the rites of matrimony for them. He was loved and honored by all classes with whom he was brought in contact, To appreciate the unusual attainments and high character of John D. Hickson one had but to know him. He was weak in only one department of his being—he had a frail body, and that was not so frail as many adjudged it, or it could not have stood the strain of nearly 35 years in the pastorate. But like Paul and many other historic characters, he accomplished his great life work despite great physical infirmities. His pluck, energy and success should bring the blush of shame to the cheek of many a man with a much more vigorous body who has accomplished but little. Nature had endowed him with a strong and incisive intellect which had been carefully cultivated to a very high degree. He was capable of broad and accurate reasoning. He solved and settled abstruse and difficult questions for himself with such clearness that his people were profited and edified when he discussed them in his pulpit ministrations. This is a very rare acquisition. He had read largely and profited by his reading. After he had perused a volume it belonged to him.

Though his spirit was as pure and gentle as that of a refined woman, he was not afraid to take strong ground and maintain it whenever principle was involved. He was ready to show his hand on the right side of every question. His throne of power was the pulpit. His sermons were well-matured, thoughtful, well illustrated and evangelical. He was thoroughly orthodox and brave enough to preach the doctrines he had promised to defend when he knocked at the door of the Conference for entrance. Had Brother Hickson possessed as much body as brain, he would have filled the best pulpits and have taken his place beside the strongest preachers of the Church. He has taken his place and a high place in Heaven.

GEORGE D. FRENCH.

MRS. J. H. WAGNER

Sue Anna Farnsworth, fifth daughter of Humphries and Mary Jane Farnsworth, was born near Greeneville, Greene county, Tennessee, March 5, 1872. She was converted in early childhood and joined Amity Presbyterian Church under the ministry of Rev. Dr. S. A. Coile, who was for sometime her pastor. She was married to Rev. James H. Wagner, September 12, 1900, at Greeneville, Tennessee, by Rev. J. A. Baylor. Their union was blessed with four bright, sweet children—Mary Ruth, Cassidy Stuart, Mattie Lucile and James Hubert, three of whom are living—Cassidy Stuart having preceded his mother to the better land.

Sister Wagner was indeed a most excellent woman, strong minded, forceful in character, yet so softened and sweetened by grace as to be wholly without harshness and asperity. Entering heartily into Church life, she was from the time of her conversion an active and devoted worker. Her husband writes me: "She was a constant student of the Bible and reader of good books; she believed in holiness, read everything she could find on the subject, and spent much time every day in secret prayer and Bible reading. She was an affectionate, and faithful wife, tender and loving mother, loved her home, honored her husband and was so helpful to me in my ministry." No one who ever visited her home failed to be impressed with her kindness and hospitality. She was generous to a fault. She displayed those traits of true womanly character which made her worthy of the highest confidence. She was never heard to speak evil of any one, friend or foe, but she was ever ready and willing to minister to them. She delighted to entertain the preachers, and they could never call at an hour when they were not welcome. She was an ideal preacher's wife—thoughtful, kind, patient, gentle and self-sacrificing. She seemed never to think of herself, but of others. There was no sacrifice, however great, she was not willing to make for her Church, family and friends. Her greatest joy seemed to be in rendering service to others. Well did she know the secret and sources of true happiness.

Soon after her marriage to Brother Wagner she united with the Methodist Church, and the life and work of a Methodist preacher's wife began. In this difficult and delicate relation she ever sought to properly adjust herself and to fully discharge every duty, and she succeeded admirably. In the Woman's Home Mission Society, Epworth League and Sunday School she was an acknowledged leader and earnest worker.

Sister Wagner was in feeble health for some time before her death and was unable to attend Church much, but her soul yearned for God's house and the services of the sanctuary. Her last sickness was of six weeks duration and the disease which carried her away was uremia poison. It was my good fortune to know her for seven years and to be her presiding elder six years. This acquaintance was fraught with heavenly comfort when he heard her tell of the dealings of God with her heart, her unshaken confidence, her hope in a glorious immortality, and better than all to see it illustrated in her daily life. Her life was enough, had she left no words of comfort. Her trust in the Saviour had been unflinching and the blessed sense of his presence and sustaining power and grace in her last hours was vivid and very full of comfort and her dying testimony to the saving power of her blessed Lord will long linger in the hearts of her husband, children and friends.

She said she wanted to live for her husband and children and that she might do good, but she was perfectly resigned to her Lord's will. Some of her last words were "The Lord is my Shepherd," "In my father's house are many mansions." As she repeated this last text her husband said "Dear, do you know there is one for you?" She replied, "Yes, darling, I know it." And in answer to his inquiry concerning the things now dearest to her, she replied that her affection for her loved ones and the assurance of her Lord's presence were dearest of all. She told her husband just as she was crossing the bar that her trust was in Jesus, and emphasizing this thought she peacefully went to sleep.

Thus passed away at about 4 p. m., Friday, October 16, 1908, one of our best women. The writer conducted the funeral services in the Methodist Church at Cumberland Gap on Sunday morning, October 18, in the presence of a large congregation of friends, and her body was laid to rest by the side of her little boy in the cemetery near Cumberland Gap. May God sustain and comfort her loved ones.

MRS. J. T. FRAZIER

I would that it were in my power to bring to you what I think would be a fitting tribute to the memory of sister Frazier, but even by those skilled in their use, words give poor expression to what the mind sees and the heart feels. For, as we look back across the years, and see a bright happy girl in the home of her childhood, and, then a little later on, as we see a noble young woman, sundering ties not easily broken, and fearlessly and cheerfully assuming the duties, privations and responsibilities of a Methodist preacher's wife, when we know with what fidelity and Christian fortitude that life has been lived, it is little wonder that I despair of speaking properly, a word in her memory.

On the 4th day of March, 1842, in Smythe county, Virginia, there was born to John W. and Mary S. Taylor a daughter, to whom was given the name of Mariale Virginia. When the time came for her to leave home for her collegiate education, she was sent to Covington, Georgia, to a college under the presidency of her uncle, the Rev. Creed Fulton.

On the fourth day of September, 1866, in Abb's Valley, Tazewell county, Virginia, she was happily married to Rev. J. Tyler Frazier, of Holston Conference, by whose side she walked amid the changing scenes of an itinerant life for more than forty years. These parents were blessed with eight children, four sons and four daughters, six of whom remain, and with father ministered tenderly to their mother as she passed down into the valley and shadow of death.

With a large family of children it meant more in those early days to be the wife of a Methodist minister, even than it does now. How often, when our dear brother, to whom our hearts go out in sympathy today, has been riding over the mountains through snow and sleet and crossing swollen streams, to preach the Gospel of Christ, has his devoted wife had the more difficult task of keeping watch in her loneliness over the home and its priceless treasures. But of her work she did not complain, nor did she desire to turn back. Once when her father, who was a man of wealth, offered her husband a farm upon which to live she urged him to continue in the traveling connection, though in the first year of her itinerant life, her husband received a salary of only $13.50.

At one time when Bro. Frazier was away from home, holding a protracted meeting, and the meal had given out she went to a neighbor's, procured corn, helped to shell it, took it to the mill, brought the meal home, and "all went well." At another time, she and the children lived for several days on milk, butter and potatoes.

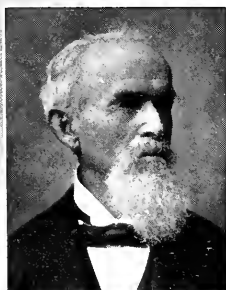

She moved thirty-one times, and during the last fifteen years of her life was greatly afflicted, but in the midst of it all, without murmuring or boasting, she walked quietly with her Lord. During their entire married life, her husband says he never saw her once angry. It is not wonderful therefore, that when the evening time came it was light. And the late evening and the close of day came in her home at Chilhowie, Smythe county, Virginia, January 7, 1909. Beautiful and comforting beyond measure was her last talk with husband, children and friends. Anxious to depart and be with Christ she said: "I want to see my father's face and hear his voice; I want the world to know that I die with a heart full of love to everybody. There is not a cloud, not a shadow on my soul; all is well, and again I say all is well." Then saying that her children had done her nothing to give her pain or cast a shadow over her heart, and shaking hands with each one, as they promised to meet her in heaven, she passed the threshold of the immortal life. She had gotten home. In the midst of tokens of deepest affection and dearest esteem, her body was laid to rest on a beautiful hill at Chilhowie, Virginia, pillowed on the Christian hope; while alone at her grave, without reserve, we said: "I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

MRS. JAMES W. BELT

Sarah Richmond Belt, wife of the Rev. James W. Belt, one of the best loved superannuates of the Holston Conference, died suddenly when in apparent good health, at her home near Speer's Ferry, Virginia, August 3, 1909. Mrs. Belt's maiden name was Richmond. She was born February 1, 1835, in Big Stone Gap, Virginia, and was therefore in her seventy-fifth year. She was united in holy wedlock to Brother Belt, February 15, 1855. For twenty-five years this noble woman went up and down the Holston country, as truly an itinerant as her fearless and devout husband at her side. With him she watched over the interests of the Church which he was toiling to bless, and most of the time abided at her home alone with her little children. Possessing a ready and active mind and mental culture beyond the ordinary, Sister Belt trained well and wisely her household in the gentilities of life and the Holy Scriptures; neat in her person—and habits and economical in her home affairs, she was a queen among women. Amid the dark days of lawlessness and war, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Horton (who yet survives) the saint, whom all now mourn, organized the first Sunday School at the Methodist Church in the immediate vicinity. This institution doubtless did more than any other agency to restore peace and promote piety.

A vast concourse of tearful friends gathered at her bier and attended the final obsequies at the family cemetery. As her pastor, the writer, assisted by the Rev. W. M. Ellis, led the congregation in solemn funeral services; and these humble lines are hereby tenderly dedicated to her memory. May showers of precious grace descend upon Brother Belt and the stricken children.

JAMES I. CASH.

MRS. WM. H. KELLY

Rachel F., daughter of Judge Samuel L. Graham, was born in Tazewell county, Virginia, June 22, 1846, and died October 10, 1908, at the ripe age of 62 years, three months and eighteen days. She was reared by devout Presbyterian parents and early in life publicly professed faith in Christ and united with the Church. On the seventh day of December, 1865, she was married to Rev. William H. Kelly, in Tazewell county, Virginia, and soon thereafter united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in which her husband was a traveling minister.

During an itinerant life of many years she cheerfully went to any place to which her husband was appointed, and so long as he was able to do the work of an itinerant she was his companion without complaint in the trying experience which came to every itinerant of our Church during the days following hard upon the Civil War. She was the mother of nine children—five sons and four daughters. Four sons survive the mother; the daughters and one son preceded her to the world eternal. One brother, William R. Graham, of Fauquier county, Virginia, is still living.

Our brother, Rev. William H. Kelly, though feeble, lives in hope, and cheerfully looks ahead in expectation of the re-union beyond. He and his deceased wife did much to re-establish the Church after the War had made all desolate except the hearts of those whose faith was in God. All honor to the "old guard!" Supreme honor for the self-sacrificing women who were the wives of our itinerant band in that day. Great shall be their reward in heaven.

Chattanooga Savings Bank

Are You Saving Money?

There are two distinct advantages in banking with the Chattanooga Savings Bank—

First—It is the largest savings depository in Tennessee; assets over two and one-half million dollars ($2,500,000.00).

Second—Every dollar you deposit will earn money for you just as long as you leave it in the bank. Four per cent. interest, compounded semi-annually, counts up with remarkable rapidity.
